Surveillance Systems

When you request a quote from KCS Security Technology, a trained technician will perform an on site survey to determine the best system to suit your needs.

Digital Video Recorders

KCS Security Technology specializes in Digital Video Recorders (DVR) that are Network accessible.

DVR technology records the camera images to hard drives, as opposed to the older VCR technology which records to much more unreliable video tapes.

Network accessibility allows cameras to be monitored from a workstation on your network, or from your home computer or laptop around the world via the Internet.

These units all provide motion detection, as well as audio recording and alarm output.

Some models provide audio output to broadcast a pre-recorded message to a loudspeaker:

We have units that can overlay a watermark and time stamp to recorded images to prevent tampering.

Your KCS technician will work with you to decide on the perfect solution for your needs.
